Observing others: appearance and mannerisms

A Words connected with size, weight and general appearance

word	meaning	example
scrawny	unattractively thin and bony-looking	He was too scrawny to be a football player.
lanky	very tall and thin, and usually moving awkwardly	A lanky teenager walked in.
gangling/gangly	with long, thin arms and legs and rather awkward movements; often used of men and boys	A gangling/gangly youth approached him.
portly	with fat stomach and chest; often used humorously about older men	A portly figure stood near the ticket desk.
stout	with a quite fat, solid body; used of men and women	She's the stout woman wearing glasses, over there.
corpulent	fat (formal, literary word)	She introduced me to a rather corpulent gentleman.

B Aspects of facial appearance and complexion

I've noticed Robert has put on weight; he's getting a double chin [fat around the chin]. His hair always looks so unkempt [untidy; scruffy]. I don't know why he doesn't look after it. His sister is the opposite: never a hair out of place [her hair is always neat and tidy]. He has a rather srawthy [dark-coloured, used about skin] complexion. His sister's complexion is more sallow [yellowish and unhealthy-looking]. He works incredibly hard; he often looks haggard [his face shows tiredness and age, with the skin hanging in folds] and exhausted.

C Facial expression

Look at those models pouting¹ for the photographers! [positioning their lips in a sexually attractive way]
If she doesn't get what she wants, she pouts for the rest of the day. [positions her lips in a look of annoyance]
You don't have to grimace² every time I eat raw garlic. I happen to think it's delicious. [make an expression of pain or strong dislike]
I arrived late and she just scowled³ at me. [gave a bad-tempered, angry look]
He was leering⁴ at us. I felt very uncomfortable and wanted to leave. [looking in an unpleasant, sexually interested way]

D Mannerisms and actions with the hand

I asked him for advice but he just shrugged his shoulders. [lifted his shoulders up and down to show he didn't know or couldn't answer]
He folded his arms [crossed one arm over the other close to his body] and crossed his legs [crossed one leg over the other while sitting] and waited for me to speak.
She bites her nails and picks her nose all the time. It drives me crazy!
She clenched her fist and told him to get out of the room at once. [closed her hand as if to hit him]
He just tapped his fingers and waited. [made quick, light hitting movements, e.g. on a table]

The TOLD-P:5 has six core subtests and three supplemental subtests that measure various aspects of oral language (click TOLD-I:5 to view intermediate version). The results of these subtests can be combined to form composite scores for the major dimensions of language: semantics and grammar; listening, organizing, and speaking; and overall language ability. Esperanto (/ , ε s p ο ' r a: n t ο u / or / , ε s p ο ' r æ n t ο u /) is the world's most widely spoken constructed international auxiliary language. Created by Warsaw-based ophthalmologist L. L. Zamenhof in 1887, it was intended to be a universal second language for international communication, or "the international language" (la lingvo internacia). Zamenhof first described ...
